Introduction

This collection was arranged and described as a project undertaken in connection with a practicum conducted by Nicole Menarchem while pursuing a Masters Degree in Library Science in the School of Graduate Education, Department of Library and Information Studies at the State University of New York at Buffalo.

Thanks goes to Amie Alden, Livingston County Historian who allowed me to carry out this practicum with the Lockwood R. Doty papers held by the county historian's office and goes to James M. Tammaro, Adjunct Professor in the Department of Library and Information Studies at SUNY at Buffalo who served as my supervisor for the practicum and provided me technical guidance and direction in carrying out the practicum work.

The papers were arranged and described according to various groups and sub-groups reflecting various topics covered by the papers. Most documents in the collection are housed in acid-free and lignin-free file folders with the larger documents such as maps, blueprints and ephemera housed separately in acid-free and lignin-free boxes. In the future, the county historian's office hopes to carry out other preservation activities with the papers such as photocopying the highly acidic newspaper articles in the collection onto acid-free and lignin-free paper.

Guidelines for Use

Use of the documents in the collection is for serious research and by request and permission of the Livingston County Historian's Office. Any use of the series material in publications must be cited as follows, "Courtesy of Livingston County Historian's Office, New York". Additionally, all documents should be handled with care. Use of fragile maps is restricted.

Biographical Sketch

Lockwood Richard Doty was born in Albany, New York on December 2nd, 1885 to a pioneer family that had settled in the Genesee Valley of upstate New York in 1799. Doty graduated from the law department of Columbia University, New York and became Livingston County judge in 1914 serving in that office until 1928. As a native of the county, Doty was very involved in the community. His involvement included serving as Geneseo Town Supervisor for six years, President of the Livingston County Historical Society, President (Mayor) of the Village of Geneseo, member and Secretary of the Local Board of Managers of the State Normal School at Geneseo, Trustee of the Wadsworth Library and Methodist Episcopal Church in Geneseo, Vice-President of the Letchworth Memorial Association, trustee and past Master of the Geneseo Masonic Lodge, and a member of the New York State Society of Mayflower Descendants, in addition to other positions.

In addition, Doty wrote and edited a “History of Livingston County”, based on his father’s (Lockwood Lyon Doty’s) first written history of the county. He also played a major role in planning regional events including a series of celebrations commemorating the 1779 Sullivan-Clinton Campaign against the five Indian nations during the American Revolutionary War. Doty died at the age of 79 on December 16th, 1937.

The documents described in this finding aid reflect the role Doty played in the community with regard to various events and undertakings carried out in the county.
