II. Background Information

The Livingston County Fire Police Association is a countywide group in Livingston County, New York, that includes members from all fire departments within Livingston County. Fire police are firefighters who have received special training and received certain police powers. Their duties include, but are not limited to, assisting police, crowd control, and logistics at emergency scenes.

The meeting minutes of this collection discuss upcoming events and potential issues within the participating fire departments. In Box 2 of this collection, the awards, convention announcements, and membership lists provide a more detailed look into who was part of the association and how they interacted with other emergency response groups.

This collection was transferred to the Livingston County Historian's Office by the Livingston County Office of Emergency Management via the Livingston County Records Management department in early 2023. The director of Emergency Management was historically involved in the Livingston County Fire Police Association and therefore compiled the materials in the collection. The Livingston County Fire Police Association remains active as of 2023.
